

Is that a real job?

Teacher/Adviser Notes

- Take a look at the set of job titles taken from the icould videos.
- They can be turned into cards to be used in groups or pairs and then used in some of the following ways:
 - ✓ Students have to put them in two piles 'Real job' and 'Made up job'. In reality they are all real jobs and then you could get them to watch one or two of them in the lesson.
 - ✓ Students take each card and have to guess what kind of person might do this job then go onto 'icould' in pairs to find out.
 - ✓ Students look at each card and try to say three things this person would do in a typical day and then go to 'icould' to find out.
 - ✓ The cards can be ranked and displayed on the desks in order of preference for them or other factor (best paid, most stress etc)
